About #KPAConference2025

The 17th Kenya Psychiatric Association (KPA) Annual Scientific Conference offers a premier platform for exchanging transformative ideas and exploring groundbreaking developments in community mental health.

This unique gathering brings together leading psychiatrists, mental health professionals, researchers, and community health innovators—all united by a shared purpose: to reimagine mental health care in the 21st century.

Set in Eldoret, Kenya, this year's theme, "Community Mental Health in the 21st Century: Innovation, Integration, and Impact," underscores the urgent need for scalable, inclusive, and innovative mental health solutions rooted in community realities.

Global Collaboration: Engage in knowledge exchange with esteemed speakers and participants from across the country and beyond.

Scientific Excellence: Discover research insights, emerging technologies, and impactful case studies across diverse tracks—from trauma-informed care to tech-powered youth interventions.

Networking & Advocacy: Forge new connections, build partnerships, and amplify mental health voices that matter.

Presenters' Privilege: All accepted presenters (oral or poster) will enjoy waived registration fees, ensuring that critical voices are heard and empowered.

This is more than a conference—it's a call to action. A chance to redefine mental health care, contribute to policy and system transformation, and co-create solutions with lasting impact.

Be part of a growing community committed to driving mental health innovation in Kenya and beyond.

Join us from September 3–5, 2025, in Eldoret.

Let's meet where science, service, and society intersect.
